Please note that in order to deliver our services effectively, it is necessary for us to provide and customize advertisements, content, and communications based on your website usage. This includes utilizing information about your interests and online interactions. However, if you choose to exercise your right to opt out of the sharing of your personal information, as outlined in this Privacy Notice for California Residents, certain services that require the continued use of your business email address, such as maintaining your member account and accessing our free Premium Services, will no longer be available to you. As a result, members who utilize the "Do Not Sell or Share My Personal Info" options on our Platform will be given the option to delete their account, along with the associated personal information. By making this request, you will still have access to all the information and content available on our Platform for non-members. Additionally, you have the option to register a new account with our Platform at any time.

To exercise this right, you may submit a request to us by sending us an email at support@legacysuite.com

HOW DO WE COLLECT YOUR DATA?

This section explains generally the sources from which, and how we collect and process personal data.

i) During profile registration:

We collect Personal Data from you when you use certain services on our Platform including when you sign up for an account, create or share, and message or communicate. This can include information on or about the services you provide or about how you use our Services. Personal Data and other details about you that you supply as part of the registration process or that are collected by us when you use the Services that are used to provide you with the Services and information as set out in our Terms of Service. We will not use that information for any purpose other than the Services.

ii) When you communicate with us:

If you contact us in relation to any of the Services (via email, telephone, post or otherwise), we may collect and retain your contact details and your communication for the purpose of handling your query and keeping records of communications. When your communications with us provide us with certain technical information, such as internet protocol (IP) address, browser type, time zone setting, location, device operating system, and other technologies that may be utilized for you to access our Platform or communicate with us otherwise.

iii) When you submit any personal information:

When you submit your personal information to us voluntarily for any purposes, we may retain such information and process it. This information may include details such as (name, age, gender, identity card number, passport number, date of birth, education, race, ethnic origin, nationality, citizenship, biometric information), contact details such as (address, email, phone numbers), family information such as (marital status, name of spouse or child or immediate family), occupation details, bank details such as (bank account number(s), card details) and other information. In addition, we may from time-to-time request for certain other personal information that may be relevant for us to consider your request for any other products, services or features made available on our Platform. Failure to supply such data may result in us being unable to open, establish, continue and/or provide Accounts, products, services or features in relation to guidelines issued by authorities.

iv) When you visit our Platform:

When you visit our Platform, we may collect your location data, GPS-related and other relative information from the internet browser you are using. We may also collect information on how the Sites are accessed and used ("Usage Data"). This Usage Data may include information such as your computer's Internet Protocol address (e.g., IP address), browser type, browser version, and the pages of our Sites that you visit, the time and date of your visit, the time spent on those pages, unique device identifiers and other diagnostic data.

v) When you link your payment institution:

When you link your payment institution to your profile on our Platform, we may collect information from your bank, any partner institution, and digital wallet and/or from any provider issuing and managing the distribution of e-money to you. This is required for us to provide our Services.

vi) When you link/interact with any social media account:

We may collect information related to your social media account once you connect it to our Platform and/or when you interact with us or our content through any social media features (e.g., the “Like” buttons) integrated on our Platform.

vii) When fraud prevention agencies and/or other third parties carry out identification checks:

We may also verify and source personal information/data about you from third-party sources, (both public and private) such as your employers, regulatory or other authorities, the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) as well as from the public domain.

HOW WILL WE USE YOUR DATA?

We use the personal data we collect or receive from our Users for the purposes described in this Policy and for other business purposes allowed by law, including the development, delivery, and performance of our services, and sharing of such data with our affiliates for business-related purposes, and as follows:

- To provide and maintain our Service.
- To manage your Account registration and usage.
- For the development, compliance and undertaking of the contract for the Services or of any other contract with us through the Service.
- To contact you by email, telephone calls, SMS, or other equivalent forms of electronic communication.
- To attend to and manage your requests to us.
- To resolve disputes, investigate and address your concerns, and monitor and improve our responses.
- To help maintain the safety, security, and integrity of our Platform, databases, and technology assets and to detect and prevent transactional fraud.
- For testing, research, analysis, and product and service development.
- For facilitating and processing your transactions with us and with our third-party affiliates and business partners.

- To respond to law enforcement requests and as required by applicable laws, court orders, or governmental regulations.
- For fraud or crime prevention and investigation, transaction disputes, data analytics, audit and debt collection and in order that services may be processed by us.
- Conducting any action to meet our obligations to comply with Anti Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing (“AML-CFT”) regulations and/or international guidance or regulatory requests relating to or in connection with the detection, investigation and prevention of money laundering, terrorist financing, bribery, corruption, tax evasion, fraud, criminal and/or unlawful activities, evasion of economic or trade sanctions and/or any acts or attempts to circumvent or violate any laws relating to these matters.
- For investigations or enquiries as to whether or not any user is a sanctioned person, or otherwise related to and/or associated with a sanctioned entity in any way; and for reporting or taking any remedial or preventive action in relation thereto.
- For our internal record keeping and/or any activity related or incidental to any above mentioned purposes.
- For other purposes such as data analysis, identifying usage trends, determining the effectiveness of our promotional campaigns, evaluating and improving our service, marketing and your experience with us etc.

Wherever we rely on your consent related to your data, you will always be able to withdraw such consent at any time. Please note that we may have other legal grounds for processing your data for other purposes including those set out hereinabove. You have the right to opt out of direct marketing or profiling we carry out for direct marketing purposes at any time. You can do this by (i) clicking on the unsubscribe link in the relevant marketing communication, (ii) changing your marketing preferences through your Profile, or (iii) emailing us using the contact details given hereinabove.

We do not use your personal data to take automated decisions about you which have a legal or similarly significant effect on you.

METHODS OF DATA PROCESSING

We, at Legacy Suite, take appropriate security measures to prevent unauthorized access, disclosure, modification, or any unauthorized destruction of your data. The data processing is carried out using computers and/or IT-enabled tools that follow organizational procedures and methods which are strictly in adherence to the purposes indicated in this Policy. In addition to us, the data may be accessible to certain types of persons in charge, involved with the operation of this Platform (administration, sales, marketing, legal, system administration) or external parties appointed by us (such as third-party technical service providers, mail carriers, payment providers, host servers), if necessary. The updated list of these parties may be requested from us at any time.

TRANSFER AND SHARING OF DATA

Depending on your location, your data may be transferred to a server in a country other than where you are resided, for storage or processing. If any such transfer takes place, you can find out more by checking the relevant sections of this Policy or inquire from us using the information provided in the contact section. We store, process, and/or transfer personal data in the United States of America, please be advised that you are transferring your personal information to us in the United States of America.

We may share your personal data with the following recipients:

- Internal recipients – We may disclose your data to authorized employees who require such access in order to fulfill their role with us. Our employees are specifically trained with regard to the sensitivity, handling and protection of your data and its privacy.
- Judicial, administrative and other public authorities – We may share or disclose your data if required to do so by the law, by a request from a competent authority or regulator, to comply with a court order, to obtain legal remedies or defend our Platform's rights, to contribute with investigations related to fraud, identity theft etc. We may also share your data with fraud prevention agencies: we share and confirm information with these parties so as to confirm that you are eligible to use our Services and prevent fraudulent activity through our Services.
- Service providers/Affiliates – We may share your data with third-party service providers/affiliates who may process it on our behalf for the purposes identified in this Policy. These parties shall use your information on our instructions and only to the extent of providing us with their services. In particular, we may use third-party providers for website hosting, maintenance, payment provider services, mail carriers, customer support, marketing services, identity checking etc.
- Banks and payment institutions – We may share your data with the banks and/or other payment institutions and providers issuing and managing the distribution of e-money to you including any crypto exchange, digital wallet etc., which you link to your profile for the purposes of payment or transfer.
- Social media networks and advertisers – We may share your data with social media networks, subject to your marketing preferences, such as Facebook, Twitter and other advertisers in order to present our advertisements to you on these platforms. This may include sharing with these social networks any actions that you take on our Platforms, such as your visits and your interactions on our website, information collected from cookies or similar technologies. This allows us to measure the effectiveness of our advertising, improve our marketing practices and help us deliver more relevant advertising to you and people like you. Further information on how these social media networks enable you to exercise your data protection rights and subsequently process your information can be found in their respective Privacy Policies available on their websites.

- Business advisers - We may share your data with our legal advisers, accountants, business consultants, insurers and other business advisers, to the extent as is necessary for them to provide us with their services.
- In the event that our business is sold or integrated with another business – We may share your data with our advisers and/or any prospective purchaser's adviser and such data shall be passed to the new owners of the business/our legal successors.
